

BAYLOR

U N I V E R S I T Y

Baylor University is the oldest continually-operating university in Texas and the largest Baptist university in the world. Classified as a research university with “high research activity” by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, Baylor blends an international reputation for educational excellence and a strong Christian commitment with a robust research program aimed at the discovery of new knowledge across all academic disciplines. With a total student enrollment of more than 14,000, Baylor offers 146 baccalaureate, 76 master and 25 doctoral degree programs across 11 academic divisions.

Baylor University seeks an outstanding person to become a Researcher/Analyst in University Development.

Position Description:

This position specifically supports the mission of the university by identifying prospective donors and analyzing demographic, economic, and personal data to determine individual and/or group propensity and capacity to support the university and assisting in the prospect management and tracking system.

Qualifications:

A Bachelor's degree is required. A Master's degree and three years of relevant work experience preferred. Interested persons are asked to please submit a resume and letter of interest along with the Baylor application form.

Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications.

To Apply: Interested applicants should complete the Baylor University on-line application at <http://jobs.baylor.edu>, along with the submission of a resume and cover letter. Applications will be accepted until the position is closed.

Baylor is a Baptist university affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas. As an Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity employer, Baylor encourages minorities, women, veterans, and persons with disabilities to apply.