

Major Gift Fundraiser – Media Research Center – Alexandria, VA

The Media Research Center currently has an opening for an experienced major gift fundraiser. Applicants should have a minimum of 2 years of fundraising experience with not-for-profit organizations or with political campaigns. One on one personal solicitation experience with individuals, foundations or corporations is mandatory. This is not an event planning position. Professional presentation and the ability to effectively communicate in person, over the phone, and in writing are required. Candidates must be well versed in conservative issues and current political events as well as with the media. Competitive compensation is available and is based on experience and accomplishments. The MRC also offers a full range of employee benefits.

About the MRC

The mission of the Media Research Center, “America’s Media Watchdog,” is to bring balance to the news media. Leaders of America’s conservative movement have long believed that within the national news media a strident liberal bias existed that influenced the public’s understanding of critical issues. On October 1, 1987, a group of young determined conservatives set out to not only prove — through sound scientific research — that liberal bias in the media does exist and undermines traditional American values, but also to neutralize its impact on the American political scene. What they launched that fall is the now acclaimed — Media Research Center (MRC).

Interested parties should submit a resume, a cover letter explaining philosophical and professional interests in the role, and 2-3 writing samples to claire@talentmarket.org.